No rain yet — it's not even humid

Despite high clouds scuttering through the sky and mugginess in the air, weathermen still say the pattern is familar for September in Northern California, with or without the drought.

Those high clouds and that muggy feeling have provided little relief from the drought, though last week's rain was a welcome, if brief, respite.

Weathermen from the National Weather Service and private agencies insist that though it may look like rain and California residents are praying for rain, very little can be expected at least through the end of the month.

Most clouds these days are part of upper level disturbances that bring haze and partially block the sun but do little more.

By any standards, drought or no drought, the rain last week brought more rain than is customary in September in Northern California. "We've had slightly more rain than normal this month but the relative humidity has been low at the Oakland Airport and September has been one of our most pleasant months," said a forecaster with the Oakland Air Service which provides weather information for pilots throughout the Bay Area.

He added that muggy feeling many people complain about when it gets partly cloudy is just that: a feeling.

"Imagined," he said.

If it smells like rain, it's more likely your nose is out of adjustment.

Weather services like his are best at telling what the weather is, not what it might become. Oakland Air Service forecasts no farther than two days in advance so he would not speculate on the end of the drought.

Phil Swain, head of the San Francisco office of the National Weather Service, the major information source for all weathermen, agreed.

Weather stations throughout the U.S. and around the world collect the information which the National Weather Service passes along to interested parties, but not even the government will go out on a limb and try to predict whether it will rain or snow this December.

That, according to Swain, is the sole province of commercial forecasters who can gamble then charge handsomely when they win and just "blame the weather" when they lose.

Long range forecasting, imperfect even when it works, is based on data gathered by the government service then compared with historical charts that let the forecaster make an educated guess.

Historically, a third drought year in California would be unprecedented, which makes some forecasters think "this year the rainfall will return to what many Californians remember as "normal."

But even when they know the historical pattern most weathermen still caution, "Don't bet on the rain yet."

Fair contract faces county, directors fight

The county Board of Supervisors will consider a five-year contractual extension with the Alameda County Fair Association this afternoon.

But a Fair spokesman yesterday said the length of the contract may be the key question, though Fair directors have said they are in agreement with county demands to limit terms of service of elected directors and are committed to an affirmative action program for hiring minorities.

The action coming before the supervisors is in the form of a request for renewal of an existing contract that expires Oct. 31. The present pact is also a five-year agreement.

Supervisors had long been at odds with the basic operations of the Fair Association.

In addition to an affirmative action program for hiring, supervisors have been concerned over the tenure of board members.

With the exception of supervisorial appointees, the remainder of the 21-person board has historically been drawn with little regard for county population. Until the mid-70s, no women or blacks had ever served on the board.

Though the county owns the land and buildings at the Fairgrounds in Pleasanton, it has balked at paying the liability insurance. But county administrator Loren Enoch advised supervisors last spring that the Fair Association should start paying this with the advent of any new contractual agreement.

In a letter sent to the supervisors last week, Fair board president Frank Castelucci said directors would be ready to consider capping the terms of elected directors to 16 years and increasing board membership to 26 to give each supervisor two appointees.

In attempting to bring the operations of the Fair more into line with county policies, Enoch told supervisors that the latter's policy would prevent an appointee from serving more than 10 years.

Many of the elected directors (not those APPOINTED by supervisors) have served on the Fair board for well over 10 years.

Lee Hall, secretary-manager of the Fair Association, opined that attrition could possibly bring about compliance.

The 16-year limit apparently would not be retroactive. Thus, directors who have served for 10, 15 or more years already would have another 16 years if they so wished.

Board strength at present is at 20 as one of the supervisorial appointees, Otho Green of Oakland, recently submitted his resignation.

Hall said their would be no association representation at today's meeting of supervisors, which commences at 10 a.m. in Oakland.

Battle for state school funds begins

The Amador Valley Joint High School District board has scheduled a crucial budget review meeting for tonight at 8 o'clock.

Discussion will center on the amount of AB 65 monies the district might receive and to what areas of the budget they'll be channeled.

Residents of the district are encouraged to attend. The meeting will be held in district offices at 123 Main St., Pleasanton.

Pleasanton Joint School District trustees held a similar meeting last night, considering what the district's priorities are in the face of a possibly redistributing of budget funds.

Board members later held an executive session on negotiations. In depth consideration of a contract has been stalled until the district learned how much might be received as the result of AB 65 being signed into law by Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Jr.

Amador Valley Teachers Association negotiators have asked that the bulk of new monies accruing to the district be placed toward salary increases.

Last night's special meeting of Pleasanton trustees went ahead though the status of one of the board members, Joe Schwab, still remains uncertain.

Schwab had indicated more than two weeks ago that he would submit his resignation "in two weeks." The veteran trustee has missed the last seven consecutive board meetings and approximately half of all meetings over the last 1½ years.

It has been known that Schwab has been in ill health and considering resigning for some time. His term runs through March of 1979.

Valley school districts last Thursday got a more definitive idea of what they might receive in a meeting at the county.

Tenative apportionments to Pleasanton and Amador are $218,920 and $204,092, respectively.

Significant drops or increases in average daiy attendance would alter these figures, however. The Pleasanton district, for example, is presently 116 students below its estimated average daily attendance count for the year. Should this hold, the district would probably receive less than the county has computed.

Amador district trustees will learn tonight that their total enrollment count is 60 under the figure submitted to the county.

Negotiations are expected to move into high gear after the respective boards determine how much they believe should be apportioned to certificated and classified salaries and benefits.

'Only a last resort'

Mini plants get wary eye

LIVERMORE — Representatives of Alameda County's farmers and ranchers are willing to tolerate small sewage treatment plants, if they really are needed, but they don't like a new federal government program designed to curtail silt runoff because it looks like too much red tape.

The Alameda County Agricultural Advisory Committee took both those stands last week at the group's second meeting since it was organized late in the summer.

The sewage treatment "package plants" can hurt the farmer by causing a proliferation of developments popping up in agricultural areas, Alameda County Planning Director William Fraley told the committee.

Members agreed with Fraley and went on record with the following statements : 1) urban sewage treatment plants ought to be used; 2) package plants may be used in areas with existing problems, for example, Happy Valley Road where there is a problem with some septic tanks; 3) If a rural residential area will be approved and package plants are the only way, they ought to be considered versus septic tanks; 4) in all cases, there should be guaranteed good maintainance.

Bill Bruener of the Contra Costa County Soil Conservation District said that package plants work well if thy are maintained properly. However, if some residents move away and their successors fail to pay assessments, the plants could go bad, he warned.

The ranchers and farmers were most concerned about what the discharge from such plants would do to the underground water supply. For that reason, their general attitude could be summed up as "package plants only as a last resort."

They were very concerned about the surface runoff program, which is aimed mainly at the urban centers under Federal law 208, but has some implications for agricultural pursuits.

The committee agreed unanimously with rancher Percy Davilla that "after all the money is spent, places will still have erosion and this program will not solve the problem. If there are particultar problems with industry or housing developments, they should be handled by the present regulating authorities."

The agrarians were concerned especially with how much plowing and dam - building they could do without having to go somewhere to get a permit for it.

An official from Zone 7 assured them that the plan would require permits only for major work, and most of it would be handled through building officials as happens now anyway.

There will be special new features like a livestock management committee which should help established ranchers by educating the newer "ranchette owners" about how many animals their small ranches can take without polluting the water, said Zone 7 staffer Rick Baker.

Talks reach impasse; strike warnings seen

DANVILLE — The San Ramon Valley Education Association (SRVEA) leadership has appointed a strike captains coordinator but set no date for any possible walkout.

Both administration and teachers reported minimal progress towards agreement on a contract for 1978 after Monday's fifth in a series of mediation sessions.

SRVEA negotiations leader Mike Shackleford, a teacher at Greenbrook School, reiterated that teachers were asking 8 per cent or cost of living (March to March) salary increase, as well as improvements in fringe benefits, agency shop, transfer and evaluations procedures.

Shackleford said the district's premediation salary offer was "zero" increase.

Jacques Bernier, chairman of Uniserv which proposes to represent teachers in the San Ramon, Murray, Pleasanton and Amador districts, is assisting with negotiations.

The board negotiation panel is led by Keith Breon, of the Breon, Galgani and Godino law firm, and district administrators Allan Petersdorf and assistant superintendents Orrin Batchelor and William Crozier.

Shackleford said Mike Kauzer, a teacher at Twin Creeks School, would be strike captains coordinator. A committee of captains will be appointed to take care of the details of any walkout.

Shackleford indicated that members of the representative council were "unhappy" ith the mediation sessions to date.

He said there was the possibility of some action to reflect the alleged lack of progress in talks. Whether this would take the form of a total walkout or a curtailing of duties was not commented upon.

Petersdorf said Monday a California Teachers Association financial expert had met with Batchelor yesterday morning to look over the 1978 budget and pertinent financial data.

Peter Lujan has been assigned to conduct mediation sessions by the CaliforniaState Conciliation Service.

Mori's job bill signed

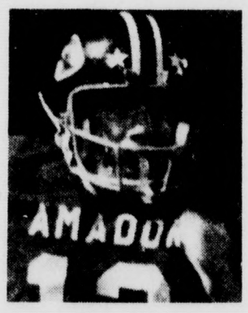

A bill aimed at creating more jobs for Californians through expansion of small businesses has been signed into law by Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Jr.

The measure presented by Assemblyman S. Floyd Mori, D-Pleasanton, will consolidate present functions of the California Job Creation Program with currently fragmented state small business services under a new Office of Small Business Development.

Provisions have been made to address key criticisms of the Cal Job loan program in which the state loans made to small businesses. According to the author, the bill is directed at reducing the current loan default problem through automatic managerial and technical assistance tie-ins to loan recipients. It also reduced the state's loan guarantee amount to lending institutions from 100 percent to 55 percent, thereby encouraging a more thorough investigation of the financial standing and viability of prospective borrowers.

The bill also extends the benefits of the loan program to agriculture, California's number one industry. "It is of major concern that there is currently no mechanism to assist young people wishing to enter agribusiness. My bill would provide the necessary guarantee of production and harvest loans along with invaluable assistance in the business management aspect of modern agriculture," Mori said.

SR teen to hospital

A 14-year-old San Ramon girl was reported in serious condition yesterday suffering from injuries sustained Friday night when was hit by car during an argument between a motorist and two other pedestrians.

California Highway Patrol and ambulance reports said the girl was taken to Kaiser Hospital in Walnut Creek suffering from two compound fractures of the right leg, a broken left leg, possible internal injuries and multiple abrasions.

The CHP reported it has cited the 17-year-old driver for reckless driving in connection with the incident. The injured girl was reported to have initially been his passenger until he allegedly got into an argument with two male pedestrians.

When she left the car to mediate he allegedly drove off then returned "at an excessive rate of speed" and hit the girl after first jumping the curb and hitting a fence and another parked vehicle.

FBI's Bates to speak

Charles Bates, former head of the San Francisco office of the FBI during the Patty Hearst kidnapping investigation, is slated to address the Pleasanton chamber of commerce luncheon at noon today.

The chamber of commerce meets each Tuesday at noon at Hap's restaurant, 122 W. Neal St.

Zone 7 checks its wallet

Zone 7 Directors will take a hard look at financial reports for July and August when they meet at the Del Valley water treatment plant at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Staff also will report on a recent meeting with retailers in Pleasanton, Valley Community Services District and Livermore, over a proposed revision in the table to set water rates.

Zone 7 Directors have proposed altering the formula to set rates yearly. Under the current equation, the rate is adjusted on a five-year projection of costs.

Taxes

The Valley's equal share

Livermore and Pleasanton taxpayers continue to ride the mid point among Alameda County property owners, but Dublinites pay a heavier tax load than either of their municipal neighbors.

A compilation of 1977-78 property tax levies by the Alameda County Taxpayers Association also reveals that modest tax reductions by most local agencies this year are being more than offset by increases in assessed values.

Pleasanton property owners enjoyed a 2.3 percent drop in their overall tax rate this fiscal year, but assessed values throughout the city climbed by an average of 12 percent. The combined total tax rate from all Pleasanton sources (including schools and special districts) is $12.83, a drop of 30 cents from the previous year.

Livermore taxpayers saw their .04 percent drop in tax rates more than offset by a 17.89 percent boost in assessed values. The total tax levy for property owners in Livermore comes to $12.86, down five cents from the previous year.

(In both communities there are special tax districts where total rates will vary slightly from the city's average.)

Total tax levies in Dublin come to $13.46 this year, down 47 cents from the previous fiscal period, but still the fifth highest tax tab in the county. VCSD levies $1.31 of that total, while public education requires $7.30 of the tax rate.

(Tax rates in San Ramon Valley vary, but the prevailing Contra Costa County rate is $12.07 for much of SRV, with VCSD levying $1.27 where their services are also provided.)

In Livermore, education's costs require $6.81 of the total tax rate levy in that community. In Pleasanton, education's slice is $6.68, although that tab will vary between the northern (Murray District) and southern (Pleasanton Elementary District) portions of the city.

The Alameda County general fund levy this year will be $3.07; there are as many as 12 special districts adding to that burden, including Alameda - Contra Costa Transit District, 43 cents, BART 43 cents, and the South County Community College District, 64 cents.

In the overall tax sweepstakes, Pleasanton stands ninth, Livermore tenth and Dublin 13th among the 17 communities in the county.

Dazed in the chowline

Dazed in the chowline, Pleasanton residents closed the annual Pleasanton Daze celebration with a steak barbecue at the Fairgrounds Saturday night. Guests were also serenaded by music from the Banjo Band, arranged by the Pleasanton chamber of commerce.

Dublin city drive gains tenured help

DUBLIN — For a $750 fee, a veteran of the San Ramon/Danville/Alamo incorporation battle last year has offered to help the Dublin Incorporation Committee consolidate their feasibility study findings into report form.

Beverly Lane of Danville contacted Dublin Incorporation Committee Chairmant Dave Burton and offered her services to the committee. Lane was Chairperson of Taxpayers for Local Control, proponents of the incorporation of Danville/San Ramon/Alamo.

While getting her masters degree in public administration, Lane wrote her thesis on the incorporation of new cities, Burton explained.

Since March 21, 1977 the Dublin Incorporation Committee, which is comprised of five separate volunteer committees, has been delving into the pros and cons of incorporating Dublin.

Burton said to get official backing needed to put the incorporation issue on a ballot, committee findings would have to be put in report form.

A $1000 fund for studying Dublin's proposed incorporation was put aside last year by the Alameda County Board of Supervisors, according to Burton. Lane's $750 fee could validly be taken out of the $1000 fund, Burton pointed out.

"To date, none of that fund has been used," Burton added. "We wanted to wait until we had a use that would justify spending any of that money. That $1000 has been retained by the supervisors and they will have to give their approval before any of it can be spent."

Even if the supervisors give their approval, the $1000 or any portion, has to be dispensed through an official agency.

Burton said Valley Community Services District (VCSD) Director, Lila Euler, was checking to see if VCSD could act as the dispensing agency.

Burton said VCSD, by resolution during their last board meeting, had agreed to prepare a survey regarding how VCSD would work with the proposed city of Dublin as far as providing services.

VCSD Parks Facilities Coordinator, Waide Egener, was put in charge of preparing the survey.

During their last board meeting, Dublin Chamber of Commerce directors said they would withhold putting their stamp of approval on the proposed incorporation of Dublin until they had a chance to study all of the facts gathered by the Dublin Incorporation Committee.

Landmark aid sought

PLEASANTON — The city is looking for applicants to form its Historical Landmark Overlay District Committee.

The committee will implement the city's historical landmarks preservation ordinance. City council has set itself as the interim committee until final selection of the civilian board.

Resumes should be submitted to the city manager's office, 200 Bernal Ave., by Oct. 14.

Resumes should list interest, experience knowledge "and other pertinent data regarding historical buildings or architecture," according to city staff.

Appointments will be made by city council at its Oct. 25 meeting.

Get thee to a license

LIVERMORE — If your dog is four months old or you have moved to Livermore within the last month with your pet, you need a dog license.

That's the law, and a lot of people don't know they are violating it with a tagless dog. It could cost them $10 if they come in later than 30 days of moving here. The price goes up to $25 if the dog is caught without a license.

The annual license fee is $7, but goes down to $3.50 if the dog is spayed or neutered.

When applying for a dog license, proof of rabies vaccination (which must be good for at least three months of the licensing period) and spayed or neutered papers should be presented.

Licensing periods run from Dec. 31 to Dec. 31, or June 30 to June 30, and dog owners receive notices when their dog licenses are about to expire. Owners have 30 days to renew licenses.

The city tried a door-to-door survey last year to remind dog owners to get their pets licensed. Although the grace period, no penalty for having dog licensed, ran for about three months, one city employe noted, "the public wasn't too thrilled about it." A lot of dogs were registered, but not as many as were anticipated.

One reason for the licensing is to help combat the rabies situation in Alameda, since rabies vaccination is part of licensing requirements. Another reason is making it easier to identify and return lost dogs.

It's time you and your gas furnace started doing things for each other.

Winter's coming. As it always does. And now is the time to check your gas furnace, so you can keep the home fires burning more efficiently and safely.

If you have a wall furnace, see that the area around the air openings and controls are free of lint and dust; if you see accumulations of what appear to be soot, you need the help of an expert.

If you have a central furnace, clean or replace the air filter now, and at least once more during the heating season. A clogged filter wastes energy and increases heating costs. (For safety's sake be sure no combustible liquids are stored near your furnace.)

If the pilot is out, turn the thermostat to the lowest possible setting before relighting, make sure the main burner valve and the pilot valve are turned off and allow a few minutes for the gas to clear. Then check the manufacturer's lightup instructions which appear on most furnaces. Once the pilot is ignited, reset the thermostat to 65° or lower. If you're uneasy about it, call PG&E for assistance.

If your furnace needs parts or repairs, call a qualified furnace repair service. If you smell gas, call us. Never look for a gas leak with a lighted match or other flame.

For more information, ask for our booklets, "At Your Service" and "Gas and Electric Safety in Your Home," at your local PG&E office.

With just a little loving care, you and your furnace will be ready for a long, warm winter.

THE QUALITY OF LIFE

Concern for the quality of life motivated the Valley Ecology Center to present a series of lectures during the past summer.

Slides were shown of a home built into a hillside in Brentwood with three sides and the roof covered with earth to reduce consumption of energy.

The earth provides natural insulation. Skylights bring in solar light and heat for the solar water heater. The compressed air toilet uses only one quart of water per flush according to an article by Pat Williams in the Valley Ecology Report.

In a talk about gardening in the valley, Dave McIntyre described the typical valley soil as adobe, that is, having a high percentage of clay, having bad drainage, and creating root problems for plants. The soil has an average pH of 6.2 and is deficient in many nutrients, needs compost, soil conditioners and fertilizers.

Valerie Raymond discussed land use planning. She recommended that the Valley land planning of the future should concentrate on using less land per person.

Another talk concerned conservation of water at home. Tom Frost said his family cut their use of water from about 50 gallons per person per day to 25 gallons. He says simple procedures are all that are necessary to save water.

An electric car driven by Terry Rossow is said to be one of a dozen being operated in the valley. Art Deleray told of the many possible uses of solar energy. Other energy experts told of wind-power and geo-thermal power.

Dot Bishop said for maximum use of fruit to freeze not so ripe fruit, can medium ripe fruit, and make fruit leather of over-ripe fruit.

Gary Tompkins is another concerned preserver of the quality of life. He told of the drip irrigation system which saves water by delivering the water directly to the plants.

Alice Tetlow-Noyes told of the impact of every group of people who lived in this area. The Native Californians burned Mt. Diablo and the Delta area in order to encourage diverse varieties of plants and wildlife. But they stopped hunting and gathering when the missionaries introduced them to farming and ranching and introduced annual grasses to replace native grasses. She believes the natural plant communities should be preserved.

Nutrition affects enormously the quality of our individual lives. There will be a series of workshops on nutrition at the First Presbyterian Church, 4th and L streets, in Livermore. "Let's Talk About Food and Nutrition" will occur on Oct. 4 in the 3rd and 4th grade classrooms, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. There will be discussion and activities.

"Food Science for Laymen" with Dot Bishop, biochemist and food preparation instructor, Livermore High School Adult Education, will be on Oct. 18, same place and hour.

Barbara Gilmartin, dietician and counselor will speak on Nov. 1 on "Maternal and Childhood Nutrition." The Nov. 15 meeting will be put on by the American Heart Association: "The Maturing Years, Food, and Cholesterol." As with the other meetings in the series is at the Presbyterian Church.

The final meeting of the series will be on December 6 with "Food Preparation as it Affects Nutrition," same time, same place.

If one is concerned with the quality of parenting, there will be a seminar in two sessions entitled "Growing as Parents." on Oct. 2 and Oct. 16 at the First Presbyterian Church, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Still others concerned with the quality of our lives are two Southern Baptist leaders, Foy Valentine and Harry N. Hollis, whose concern is the quality of television programs aimed at our home sets by the networks.

A letter has been sent to ABC president Fred Pierce calling for cancellation of the controversial new television show "Soap." They called the supposedly laundered version "morally objectionable, vulgar, in bad taste," and called it "sex miseducation" and an "assault on family life."

"Soap has not been effectively cleaned up," said Hollis, "and it should not be on the air."

Calling all pet lovers

Eight cat lives to go

Spunky, Spices and Percy, Houdini, the Duke, Reggie and little Ginger have found a loving foster home in Pleasanton. But they'll soon need permanent parents.

Marie Hall, an animal lover since her days as a farm girl in the backwoods of Nova Scotia, has taken in the seven orphaned kittens which she and her family found abandoned near Sunol.

But because the Halls already have two cats and two dogs, the kittens will have to be put out for adoption as soon as they have been nursed back to health by Marie, who has been treating them for ear mites, fleas and starvation.

She spotted Spunky sitting by the side of the road. When they stopped to pick him up, out came six more kittens of all ages and persuasions. They were a pretty bedraggled looking bunch.

Having been brought home, dosed and defleaed, fed and soothed and finally named, each feline has received recognition for his or her special attributes. Marie describes Houdini as being beautiful, with his mackarel-striped patches on white. She named the 5 month old male Houdini because he'd survived being abandoned and nearly starved. Marie thought that was quite a feat. He is the largest of the lot.

Percy is a white and gold long hair, a very quiet, gentle male about three months old. The Duke, also a male, walks with his head held high, even through the adversity of his three month life.

Reggie, another long haired male yellow and white litter mate of Percy is described by Marie, the former cat breeder, as "just a sweet baby, a cuddly bear. "Little Ginger is an adorable female calico also with long fur. "She needs a lot of love. She is very gentle, but nervous," says Marie.

Marie named "Spices" thus because she looks "good enough to eat." And Spices is probably five weeks old.

Spunky is the tiniest of the kittens. He is a black and white ball of fuzz, the weakest one, says Marie, "so terribly thin, but so full of courage. He really tries to live. He takes his medicine, even when I put it in his food. I feed him baby beef."

Marie Hall explains that it is because of Spunky that all of them got rescued because he had the courage to sit by the side of the road with the traffic passing by while the rest hid from sight in the grass.

"Cats are pretty self-sufficient, but they still need us," explained Marie, "You can't throw them out, to die a slow, starvation death with their insides being twisted.

"People don't want to be mean," says Marie. "They just don't know what to do with them. They should have their cats neutered and spayed. But if they could only see what happens to domesticated animals that are abandoned to fend for themselves...If the people could only see..."

Percy, the Duke and Reggie, Houdini, little Ginger, Spices and Spunky will soon be back in good health and ready for adoption by loving families who know how it feels to be a little cat...alone. All interested parties may call 846-4396.

The League of Women Voters will sponsor a special forum entitled "The Interaction Between City and County Government," featuring Alameda County Supervisor Valerie Raymond and Pleasanton vice-mayor Ken Mercer, Wednesday, Sept. 28 from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in the Social Hall, Presbyterian Church, 100 Neal St., Pleasanton.

The meeting is the first League Day of the 1977-78 year. The general public, new members and old members are invited to the forum.

Y programs for kids, dads

The Y-Indian Guides and Y-Indian Princesses are programs being spotlighted during the week of Sept. 26, which has been designated Y-Parent-Child Week, YMCA executive director Dick Babington announced.

The two programs are for fathers and their sons and daughters in grades one through three, and the Indian theme is used to help give children an understanding of native American heritage.

Y-Indian Guides and Y-Indian Princesses also help fathers and children develop a closer relationship, through programs and activities which are scheduled for participants.

Some meetings are planned to help area residents who would like to know the programs better or ask any questions about the YMCA's offerings for parents and children in the Valley.

Tonight at 7:30 p.m., there will be a meeting at Alisal School, 1454 Santa Rita Road, Pleasanton. Another meeting is planned Wednesday, Sept. 28 at Lydiksen School, 7700 Highland Oaks Drive, Pleasanton, and Thursday, Sept. 29 at Sonoma School, 543 Sonoma Ave., Livermore. All meetings begin at 7:30 p.m.

The Y also sponsors the Trail Blazers and Pathfinders groups for fathers and sons, and fathers and daughters in grades four, five and six. These groups are geared to older children, with activities ranging from camping to sports and excursions.

For more information on any of the YMCA programs, call the office at 462-2211.

MATCH means senior friends

Ministry to the Aging Through Community Help (MATCH) invites all interested persons to a reception to be held Tuesday, Sept. 27 at 8 p.m. at 1115 Hollyhock, Springtown in Livermore.

MATCH is a volunteer organization which brings visitors into local nursing homes to visit patients and residents who are alone and in need of a friend.

The program, sponsored by the Valley Convenant Ministry Council, needs more volunteers to be "matched" with seniors. For more information, call 447-2573 or 447-8050.

'Flying chef' cooks

John B. Bird, the "Flying Chef" of Livermore, will be demonstrating cooking with microwave ovens and the Cusinart food processor, during upcoming sessions at Macy's.

On Wednesday, Sept. 28, Bird will be at Macy's in Bayfair Shopping Center, Hayward, and on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1, he will be in the San Francisco Macy's. Demonstrations of cooking "Courgettes a la Mentonnaise," "Champignons au beurre a la Bourguignonne," and "Crevettes Duxelles" will be given from noon to 2 p.m.

Chiropractic Health Hints
BY DR. RAYMOND SERAFIN, D.C.
A NATURAL HEALTH FAMILY PRACTICE

IF YOU DO NOT ENJOY GOOD HEALTH

CONSULT YOUR CHIROPRACTOR FIRST

YOU NEED NOT SUFFER WITH SCIATICA

Sciatica as the name implies, is an involvement of the sciatic nerve. A person suffering this condition experiences excruciating pains down the involved leg; some while standing, others while moving or even sitting, and some have the pains in nearly every position. Chiropractors have paced research into the true cause of sciatica and pegged it on a structural disrelationship of the lower spine.

It is well known to students of anatomy that the sciatic nerve originates in the spinal cord, follows a course down the back of the thigh and ramifies in the lower leg, its nerve path reaching all the way down into the foot.

They may also known that the roots of this nerve pass between or through openings in the bone structure at the base of the spine and that they are in close relationship to the sacroiliac joint fitting snugly into the rear of the pelvic girdle and forming a sturdy foundation for the spinal column.

Basically sciatica is of two types: mild and severe. The milder form called sciatic neuralgia varies in pain from light to severe flashed along the entire route of the nerve. On the other hand the severe type, called sciatic neuritis, is said to be one of the most insufferable of human agonies.

Only about 15 percent of sciatica cases reach this degree of torture. The aggravation of sciatica is such that the sufferer will try anything for temporary relief: heat, electricity, ultraviolet ray, sedatives, back braces and even operations to immobilize the lower spine.

It is important to emphasize the word RELIEF under these treatments because none correct the disrelationship of the spinal or pelvic structure - the actual causative factor in sciatica.

There is only one way to banish the condition. That is by skillful manipulation and specific adjustment of the lower spinal structure into an ideal relationship conductive to normal nerve functions. Consult you local chiropractor for pleasant soothing relief from this aggravating condition.

For more information on SCIATICA NERVE call Dr. R.J. Serafin DC at 846-4732 or write 60 Mission Dr., Pleasanton.

Dr. Joyce Brothers

DEAR DR. BROTHERS: My husband is a tease. He teases me, our child and our dog. I get angry and throw things or go to my bedroom and cry. It only makes matters worse. He makes me feel guilty because he says I'm not a good sport. How can I break him of this habit? — M.A.

DEAR M.A.: Teasing is a disguised attack. Try to get your husband to understand why he attacks indirectly. You are actually the object of his hostility.

If he learns to express and cope with anger and aggression on a day - to - day basis he won't tease. He can be non - hostile and direct in his dealings.

Often the person who teases, has been taught that one should never express displeasure. Encourage your husband to express his feelings in a more honest, open way. Teasing really accomplishes nothing. It can destroy close relationships with people and it can turn a lovable animal into a nervous, frustrated, mean one.

It's obvious, from your letter, that you too have a problem with your anger. You and your husband should make a conscious effort to talk out your rage, rather than "throwing things" or resorting to other destructive methods.

DEAR DR. BROTHERS: My sister complains of pain a lot of the time, but doctors can find nothing wrong with her. She's been tested for almost every known ailment, so it's very confusing to me and her husband. I myself am very frightened of pain because we saw an uncle die a slow death and he suffered miserably. Perhaps this affected my sister too as we were both young and lived in the same house with him. — C.O.

DEAR C.O.: It's possible your sister could be acting out some kind of fear that is a carryover from those early days. This kind of situation can produce a trauma that could have very lasting effects.

The chronic pain your uncle suffered can set up a reverberating circuit that becomes programmed into the nervous system. This is still not fully understood. Physicians have found the chronic presence of pain leads to a heavy psychological overlay. The more vague the cause, they say, the greater the psychological overlay. Physicians often encounter a special personality — hypochondriacal, anxious and dependent — that seems to go with pain. The question is, which comes first? Does the pain lead to this special type of personality, or is this personality more prone to pain?

Pain can serve a number of purposes, especially if the individual is unhappy in a relationship and has difficulty expressing it directly. Your sister may be using pain as an excuse not to do what she doesn't want to do.

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — Help! I'm desperate! I'm a 40-year-old female and have suffered with duodenal ulcers for over 10 years. I've had three major bleeds and doctors pleading to operate.

I quit my job as "job pressures" created a second ulcer plus a bleed. I could endure the ulcer discomfort but with it always came an excruciating backache which makes me feel weak.

Not working has relieved my symptoms but has not been a total cure. Now, I've read of a new miracle drug which produces a rapid cure of ulcers but it's in England.

Is there any hope for me other than surgery? Does the drug show promising results?

DEAR READER — A peptic ulcer may occur in either the stomach or the duodenum, but 80 per cent of them are duodenal — the type you have. They are much more common in men than in women and perhaps that is partly related to "job pressures" since more men are in high pressure jobs than women. Your job experience may be an example of how this could change if more and more women move into high pressure jobs.

The pain in the back may be caused by the ulcer location. It may be penetrating the back side of the duodenum or irritating the pancreas which is imbedded against the duodenum.

I used to advise a period of hospitalization to treat the ulcer under controlled conditions before deciding on surgery. That way the doctor could be sure the medicines were taken regularly in the right amounts and that the diet was exactly what he prescribed. It is still a good idea but the staggering costs of hospitalization makes it less attractive to go into the hospital unless you absolutely have to do so. It is one way to isolate the patient from the other environmental stresses such as some of those related to the family or job.

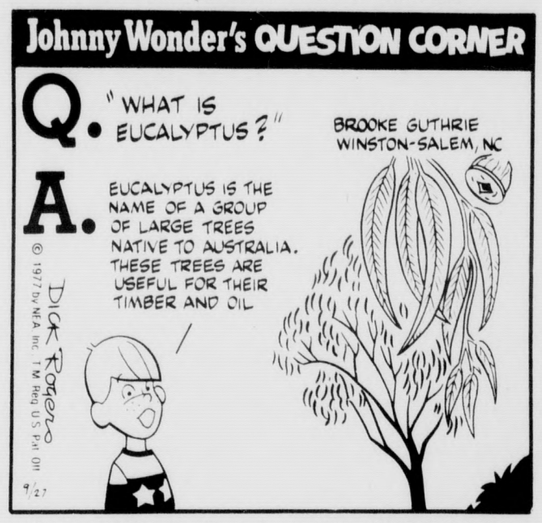

The medicine you have asked about is Cimetidine, also marketed by Smith Kline as Tagamet. It is classed as an investigational drug and is not available in the United States or Canada but is being used in England. It is being investigated in the United States now and it has a good press at this point. It is not the first medicine that has been proclaimed as the ultimate answer to ulcers. The number of studies available are still small and the experience with it is too limited to say what its long term use in ulcer therapy may prove to be.

It neutralizes histamine and in that way helps to decrease the stomach's production of acid. The decreased acidity is the key to its effectiveness in decreasing pain and promoting healing. The ulcer problem usually recurs within seven days after the medicine is stopped. A recent report states the drug is ineffective in stopping bleeding so I'm not sure that would be your answer.

I am sending you the Health Letter number 1-5, Ulcers-Duodenal, Stomach, to point out what you should be doing for yourself. Others who want information on management of ulcer problems can send 50 cents for it with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing. If you smoke, stop. Eliminate all sources of caffeine including coffee, tea and colas and use no alcohol.

Dr. Lamb answers representative letters of general interest in his column. Write to him in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

Johnny Wonder's QUESTION CORNER

Next to the Douglas fir and the giant redwoods of the American West, the tallest tree in the world is the eucalyptus of Australia. It may measure over 300 feet high!

Sometimes called a "gum tree," the common eucalyptus has a straight, slender trunk. The thin, reddish-brown bark peels off in long strips, and the narrow, leathery leaves droop downward from slender branches.

Near midday, the leaves turn their edges toward the scorching sun to conserve moisture.

The trees grow rapidly, and have been widely planted in many parts of the world. They are used for fuel and as lumber for ships, railroad ties and for other construction.

The leaves contain a valuable oil that smells somewhat like camphor. The Australian koala makes its home in the eucalyptus tree, and feeds on the buds and leaves.

Sept. 27, 1977

If entering into any type of partnership this coming year, you'd be wise to join with one who has more to offer than you do. Do this even if you have to take a smaller percentage.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Choose carefully those to whom you would delegate authority today. Where normally your instincts are excellent, today you may pick a loser. Find out to whom you're romantically suited by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter. Mail 50 cents for each and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify your birth sign.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Poor judgment today could lead you to get involved in a situation where you get all the work and worry and someone else reaps praise and benefits.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) In managerial matters today, be neither too strict nor too lenient. The way to discharge your duties lies somewhere in between.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Make it a point today to keep out of family affairs those who don't belong. Rather than calming troubled waters, they could cause a tidal wave.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Keep a cool head today, for people will delight in throwing monkey wrenches into your plans. They'll want to do things opposite from what you had in mind.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Obligations come first for any money you have on hand. A good buy may seem enticing, but delaying what you should do could spell trouble.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Be very careful in all one-to-one relationships today. Things could get out of kilter on the home front, in business or recreation.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Miscalculations at work have a way of magnifying themselves today. Use great caution to avoid them. They could have serious implications.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Extravagance is your nemesis today. Curb any tempting wasteful practices and stifle instincts to keep up with the Joneses.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Certain views you're holding may not be too popular generally. Take care where you promote them, or you'll make some powerful enemies.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Although you may feel you hold all the aces today, count the outstanding cards before you declare yourself the winner. Someone may be waiting to trump you.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Before getting mixed up in money-saving schemes today, check out those who want to involve you. They must be just as responsible as you are.

Opening lead — Q♦

By Oswald & James Jacoby

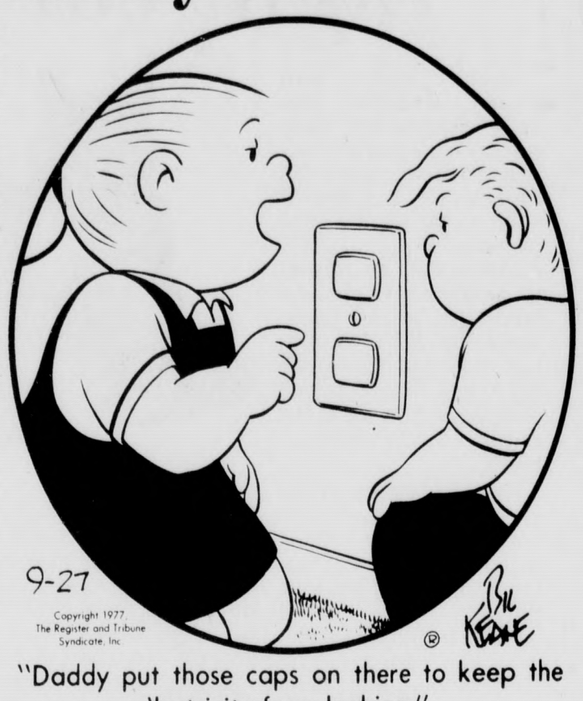

We are indebted to Victor Mollo's book "Test Your Bridge" for today's hand. If West opens a trump against the six-spade contract, South will have to fall back on the double heart finesse to bring the slam home. As you readers can see Victor has given West both the king and jack of hearts, so that declarer loses both finesses, game, rubber and possibly his temper.

At the table, West opened the queen of diamonds. Declarer still lost his contract because he drew trumps to start the play.

His correct play was to cash the ace and king of clubs and his second high diamond. He should lead a trump to dummy next to check for a 4-0 trump break. When both opponents followed he should ruff a club in his own hand, lead another trump to see both opponents follow, ruff dummy's last club and his own last diamond, lead a heart from dummy and play his 10. West could take his jack but would have no lead back to hurt declarer.

Janssen nixes police beat — except tonight

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — David Janssen plays a police sergeant tonight in the new-season start of NBC's "Police Story." But never again, he says, will he play a gendarme or gumshoe in a series of his own.

"I've just sort of had it with continuing series involving law enforcement," says he. "Obviously, I don't mind doing a show about it. But not a series, because I'd only wind up copying myself."

His adieu to weekly cops-and-robbers work ends a tour that began with "Richard Diamond," then went through a four-year run from the law in "The Fugitive," a one-year stint as a G-man in "O'Hara, U.S. Treasury," and finally, "Harry O."

That series, in which he played a sardonic but decent private eye, was considered by many critics as one of the best of its kind. Alas, ABC axed it in the spring of 1976 after a two-year run.

"I enjoyed that show when we did it the way we all wanted to," the 47-year-old actor said in his familiar raspy drawl.

What he wanted, he added, was an emphasis on character studies, not car chases and gunsmoke.

ABC, however, wanted more action and "they wanted something I didn't want to do," he said. "I didn't want to jump over cars and play cops and robbers."

He laughed when told it seemed kind of ironic that he was fighting for what the PTA seems to have gotten from network TV this season — less violence in entertainment shows.

"Well, it's been whispered in network circles that they're looking for another Harry Orwell type of show," he said. "Which is no particular pat on the back to us. We just liked doing the show when we could do it our way."

He spoke by phone from New Orleans, where he's playing a pro football executive in a TV movie involving murder and the Super Bowl.

The actor, recently acclaimed for his work in the NBC movie "A Sensitive, Passionate Man," said despite his success in series, he'd now prefer doing five or six TV movies a year instead of a series.

"The long form of TV is more appealing to me as an actor than an hour or half-hour show," he said.

He's also trying a new route, writing music lyrics, and to date has put words to 12 songs, including the title tune of "A Sensitive, Passionate Man."

What comes after his current TV project?

"I don't know," Janssen said. "I just bought a house in Malibu and I'd like to lay out on the beach awhile.

"I'm always responsive to a good script, but I don't really have any offered on a 'we-go-next-month' basis. So I'm reading some things we're talking about for early next year.

"And it wouldn't bother me at all to sort of lay out for a while.".

Anti-kid porn bill gets signature

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Selling obscene pictures of minors is now a felony in California under a bill signed by Gov. Edmund Brown Jr.

Brown's office said Monday he had signed AB 1580 by Assemblyman Jim Ellis, R-San Diego, increasing criminal penalties for child pornography.

The sale in California of any material legally judged obscene is a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine and up to a year in jail.

Ellis' bill makes the sale a felony, punishable by two, three or four years in state prison, if the material shows someone under 18 involved in any of a number of real or simulated sex acts.

It also applies to the showing of a film for money.

The bill, which took effect immediately, is one of two passed by the legislature aimed at cracking down on the so-called kid porn business, which is believed to be centered in California.

The second bill, SB 817 by Sen. Robert Presley, D-Riverside, would increase penalties for hiring youngsters under 16 to be photographed in sexual acts. It is on Brown's desk.

Valley youths meet military muster

PLEASANTON — Navy fireman apprentice Michael S. Seed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry J. Seed of 5646 Paseo Havarro, has completed recruit traing at the Navy training center in San Diego.

A 1976 graduate of Amador Valley High School, Seed's eight week training period included studying general military subjects to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training with the Navy.

SAN RAMON — Steven A. West, son of retired U.S. Army Maj. and Mrs. Willie West Jr. of 9644 Davona Drive, has entered the U.S. Air Force Academy preparatory school at Colorado Springs, Colo.

The prep school's ten month course provides study in mathematics, military training, English and physical education education to prepare students to pass the academy's entrance requirements.

LIVERMORE — Airman Mark A. Schmidt, whose wife, Kimberly, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Agius of 1778 Spruce St., has completed Air Force training as an environmental support specialist.

A 1976 graduate of Livermore High School, Schmidt studied water and waste treatment processes and has been assigned to Andersen AFB, Guam.

PLEASANTON — Coast Guard radioman 1.C. Charles E. Ratliff, son of Mrs. Maureen Stockinger of 1485 Cortez Court, has been promoted to his present rank while serving at the 11th Coast Guard District, Long Beach, Calif.

LIVERMORE — Navy Fireman apprentice Forrest G. Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary E. Fox of 668 Colusa Way, is participating in NATO maneuvers with the 6th Fleet in the Mediteranean Sea.

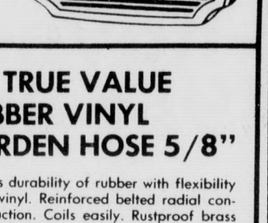

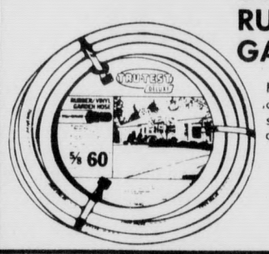

He is a crewmember aboard the amphibious transport dock USS Nashville, homeported in Norfolk, Va. His unit has joined naval forces from Portugal, Italy, Greece, Turkey and the United Kingdom in "Display Determination," designed to train NATO forces in combined sea operations. The exercise is slated to include convoy operations, amphibious assault landings and antisubmarine warfare.

LIVERMORE — Navy seaman recruit Eric J. Williams, son of Mrs. Martha E. Houser of 248 Burgess St., has completed recruit training at the Naval training ceneter in Orlando, Fla. Included in his trainning were close order drill, seamanship and Naval history.

Piece of mind and fifteen grand

Jane Blalock and her BIG check

ALAMO — Call it matter over mind. Or 18-hole therapy.

Whatever. Jane Blalock's mind is at rest and her bankroll is $15,000 thicker. And she's conquered the annoying notion that, at 32, her career was in descent.

No one else doubted her. It's hard to find fault with a 18-time tour winner with $83,137.10 in earnings for the season. But Blalock was worried about Blalock.

After winning the Greater Baltimore Golf Classic in mid-May, she'd done no better than third in a tournament. The drought was tough on the ex-schoolteacher, who celebrated her birthday the Monday before the Sarah Coventry Tourney at Round Hill Country Club.

Each time she failed to win the biggest check, she got hungrier for a win. For 12 uninterrupted weeks she struggled, knocking on the door at Pocono and Springfield and carrying newcomer Joan Joyce to a third in the team championships at Portland.

Then came the Coventry. Blalock took a deep breath, checked her shoes, sandwedge and psyche. She tied with Betty Burfeindt for first place in the pro-am, grabbing a $562 check.

Last minute instructions: "I told myself, 'Here's a good chance for you; you like the golf course, you're putting well — let's see if you have any guts left,' " Blalock recalled Sunday. It turned out her intestines were all present and accounted for.

Shooting an unremarkable 72 for the first round, Blalock drew to within a stroke of front-running Debbie Austin entering the final round with scores of 70 and 69. Sunday, with Austin faltering and second-year pro Pat Meyers knocking off a second consecutive 69, Blalock hummed to a solid two under-par 71 to win the Coventry's generous first prize by three strokes.

And, still, the once-volatile Blalock was self-effacing.

"I'll take my money and run," she smiled, tapping a table with her poster-sized check. "With all these young girls coming up it gets tougher and tougher."

That increasing competition could have been the source of much of Blalock's frustration.

"I've been hitting well all summer, I've just made the wrong putt at the wrong time," Blalock said ruefully. It wasn't long ago that a bad putt or two by a superlative lady pro was no more cause for alarm than a called strike or two on a baseball player.

Now, the comparison would be to a batter fanning three times with the bases loaded in the same game.

As Kathy Whitworth, the 77-time LPGA tour winner, put it earlier in the week, "You can't afford to stub your toe out here anymore."

Ask Debbie Austin. She damn near stubbed both feet up to the ankles on Round Hill's par three holes Sunday. Her failings on the pitch-and-putt holes accounted for the stroke Blalock needed to catch up and the three Jane won the tourney by.

Starting the day nine under-par, Austin, winner of five tournaments this year after being shut out for the first nine years of her career, bogeyed the fifth and seventh before doubling the 16th.

"I would say the par three's were not too good to me," a dejected Austin said afterwards, adding weakly, "If you can't win, second ain't too bad."

Times SPORTS
Dave Weber, Editor

At five, a downhill 187-yard link, Austin plopped her tee shot into the left bunker and temporarily lost it, the ball had buried itself so deeply into the sand. When a news photogragher pointed the ball out to her, Austin eschewed a drop — and the accompanying penalty stroke.

"I was really lucky," Austin said of her blast out that left her with a 20-foot putt for par, which she missed.

Two holes later, the wind shifted before her shot and carried her into more trouble. This time, she missed a ten-footer for par.

On the disastrous 16th, Austin again found the trap, again misplacing her tee shot. "I still felt I could make a three, no problem, I had a good lie," she said. It was not to be.

Austin caught the ball fat and it cleared the green. When she reached the putting surface, Debbie needed two putts for her five.

'I must have come up with my body," she conjectured. "I didn't get any sand."

Blalock, on the other hand, had no trouble with par threes — not Sunday, and not the rest of the week.

But, she wasn't at ease until she heard of Austin difficulties at 16.

Playing in the group ahead of Austin, Blalock had no way — other than the minutes-behind leaderboard — of knowing how Debbie was progressing behind her.

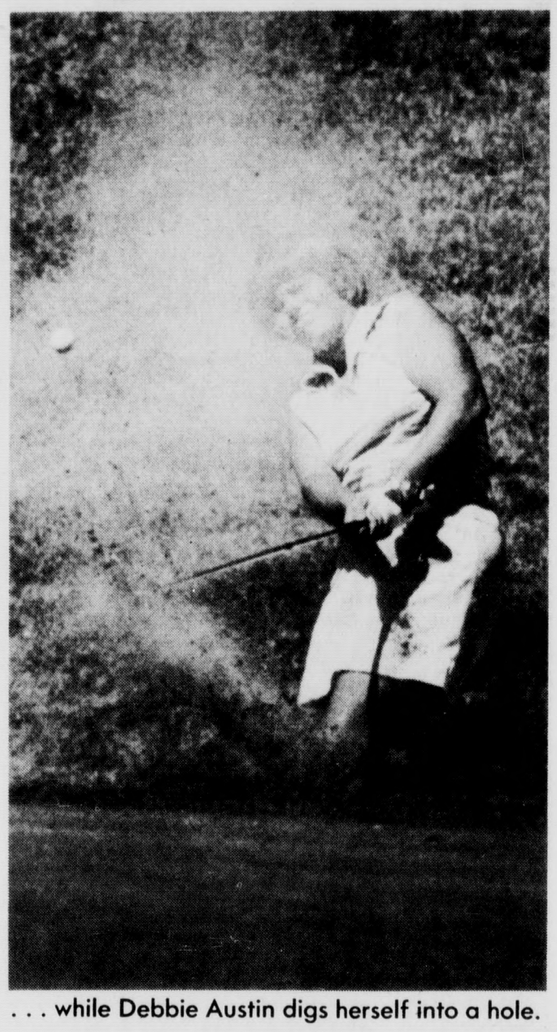

"But I didn't hear any big roar, so I knew she hadn't birdied it," Blalock said. If she had, the two would've ended the tournament tied, forcing a playoff, something a segment of the gallery wanted to believe they were seeing all weekend.

Saturday, when Austin and Blalock were paired, a spectator had remarked that he was seeing a swell "match." Annoyed, Austin reminded him that she and Janey were playing the course, not each other. She faced reality after the 16th.

It was just what Blalock always wanted. That, and a copy of "I'm OK, You're OK."

Stockton romps in Transamerica

The fourth-seeded Stockton captured the match 6-3, 6-2.

Stockton controlled the whole game and was completely on the attack. The older Carmichael was caught standing with his mouth open as he watched Stockton come to the net numerous times and forcefully direct the ball into unreachable corners.

Playing a strong offensive game, Stockton allowed his frustrated opponent few oppotunities to set up for a return shot.

As the crowd began applauding a brilliant Stockton move a sad and sweating Carmichael found that he, too, had to show his admiration and tipped his racket to a couple of Stockton coups.

The deciding point came when Carmichael double-faulted in the final set. Stockton, with what is usually a traditional disadvantage, broke Carmichael's serve, and went on to win the set and match.

The first round singles and doubles eliminations will continue today, with action getting underway at 10 a.m.

The distribution of the $125,000 total tournament purse will be decided this Sunday when the finals begin at 12:00 noon.

Amador topples Beyer, not ranked

Apparently the Amador Valley Dons football team will have to wait another week to prove their worth.

Although beating a previously-undefeated Beyer of Modesto school 13-3 Saturday night, the Dons weren't even mentioned in the East Bay Prep Writer's Association 4-A football poll this week.

Three other Valley teams, though, tied for eighth place while California (2-1) and Dublin (2-1) received honorable mentions. Monte Vista (2-) was also mentioned.

Granada, Livermore and San Ramon, all 2-1, tied for the eighth spot and the Matadors are who the Dons play in the East Bay Athletic League opener Friday night.

The Dons benefited from the passing of Pat Inglesby, who completed nine of 17 passes for 114 yards and only one interception.

The Dons scored both touchdowns on passes from Inglesby to Pual McCleary, the first one a 48-yard pass and the second a nine-yard toss.

"McCleary just made some good catches and outran everybody," explained AV caoch Duffy Dufour.

Dufour explained that the Dons have definitely improved since losing their first two games of the year, but it has not been remarkable.

"We have improved week - by - week, but we're not as far along as I thought we would be," Dufour admitted.

The Amador defense held Beyer to four pass completions and a paltry 87 yards on the ground, quite a change-of-tune over th previous week's four-touchdown letup against Tracy.

"We were so concerned about Tracy's big running back (John Morehouse), we forgot about the play-action pass," Dufour said. "Beyer ran the option, and that was the first time all year we've seen it."

Livermore retained its position in the poll with a 13-6 triumph over Manteca, while the Matadors staved off a solid Liberty team, 26-20.

San Ramon High mercilessly romped over Alhambra, 59-6, behind the golden arm of Guy Houston, while Dublin statistically walked all over Acalanes, but in the scoring column could only register a PAT-less TD for a methodical 6-0 win.

California High lost out in its bid to become the only undefeated EBAL team to enter the league season as it dropped a 26-10 decision to Miramonte. Monte Vista won a 30-7 decision over Menlo in a game not as close as the score indicated.

Foothill High School played powerful Monta Vista High of Cupertino Friday night, and subsequently became the only EBAL team to enter league play without a win as they dropped a 27-0 verdict. The loss left them at 0-2-1.

Opening night EBAL action on Friday will see Granada at Amador, Monte Vista at Dubli and Foothill at San Ramon. Livermore travels to California Saturday afternoon for a 1 p.m. contest.

DA rushes by Glads

HAYWARD — When Chabot College practices this week for its game with West Valley Friday night in Santa Clara you can bet the Gladiators will practice a lot on their running attack.

Chabot gained a total of ONE yards rushing while losing to visiting DeAnza 17-0 Saturday night in a Golden Gate Conference opener.

Meanwhile, DeAnza's running attack rolled up 267 yards and controlled the tempo of play. Running back Richard Hersey carried the ball 38 times for 193 yards for the winners.

Mistakes also hur hurt the Gladiators as they lost two fumbles and had a punt partially blocked in their first three possessions of the night.

Hersey tallied the first DeAnza score on a two-yard run in the first quarter. The 6-2, 190 pound back dominated play in both halfs.

Tim DeCoff added a second quarter field goal to gave the winners a 10-0 advantage at halftime.

Emmett Davis added the final Don score on a 17-yard run in the fourth period. A 15-yard penalty aided DeAnza in its final touchdown drive.

Quarterback Ron Jones was the only main offensive threat for the losers. completing 12 of 20 passes for 134 yards before leaving the game with an arm injury. Eric Lane was the leading Chabot rusher with 36 yards in eight carries. However, Jones was dropped for losses totaling 55 yards and reserve quarterback Tom McGinty lost 12.

Chabot is now 0-3 for the overall season and DeAnza is 2-1.

Might-have-beens key 49er defeat

SAN FRANCISCO — Add up the what-might-have-beens and the if-only-fors of Sunday's football game between the San Francisco 49ers and Miami Dolphins and see what happens.

Let's see, now ... two 49er touchdowns called back by penalties, a third averted when referees don't call Miami for offsides on third-down play (Wittum then misses seven-iron field goal attempt) ... Two Miami scoring drives kept alive by (a) quick. whistle and (b) quick hands ... two missed extra point kicks.

Only a paltry few — most of them sardonic sports-writers — that attended Candlestick Park left it believing tbe Miami Dolphins were four points better, 19-15, than the San Francisco 49ers.

What happened was enough to make even the lighthearted-49er fan sick to its stomach. And those few in favor of the Dolphins left with the spirit of Christmas a little early.

"It's those cheap touchdowns that kill us," accurately commented 49er assistant coach Floyd Peters. Big coach Ken Meyer? He echoed a variation: "Sure, errors killed us, but we can correct those."

Had the Dolphins lost, though, they would have been murmuring the same tune. The two 49er touchdowns were both results of Miami mistakes.

Jim Plnukett's roll around right end on a crucial third-and-goal situation from the four-yard-line and into the end zone only was possible after a tripup in the defensive backfield by cornerback Tim Foley. Plunkett barely made it into paydirt before running out of sideline, diving untouched behind Steve Lawson's crushing block on tiny Norris Thomas.

The 'Niners first TD since mid-pre-season was followed quite adequately by a blown PAT kick by Tom Wittum.

"Malfunctions in the kicking game hurt us," commented Meyer. But even at that, it was the malfunctions in the Dolphins' kicking game that gave SF the second TD.

Trailing 13-9 in the third quarter, Miami punter Larry Seiple had his first punt blocked in five years. Unheralded Mike Baldassin picked up the loose ball in the end zone to give the 49ers a 15-13 lead. No extra point again, though, as the low kick was blocked by Steve Young.

However incredulous the 49er scoring may seem, the Dolphins had even more to be thankful for.

Passes from Bob Griese to Nat Moore, one a screen pass up against a maximum blitz by the try-too-hard Niners and the other an unobstructed 73-yard pass over the thumb-sucking secondary, accounted for a pair of touchdowns.

Moore scored the third on an end around 'round right side for 19 yards. Garo Yepremian caught some of Wittum's non-medicine and missed two PAT attempts on the day.

"It seems like we're beating ourselves. We had plenty of scoring opportunities but we just choked," commented Del Willaims, who rushed for a one-yard touchdown but was nixed on a clipping call.

Miami's second touchdown occured only after being saved by a quick whistle. Griese's pass to Moore at midfield was dropped by the receiver after a mammoth hit by Skip Vanderbundt, but the play was blown dead and the pass ruled complete.

Plunkett stopped to look at some of the good things that managed to happen on the day: "I thought we came up with some big plays and we had good ball control. That's a good sign, and our running game definitely improved."

Everything improved, for that matter. After the last four games, there's no place to go but up.

Chabot booters to meet CCSF

Chabot College's soccer team is going into today's Golden Gate Conference match with host City College of San Francisco a full head of steam.

The Gladiators opened GGC action with a convicing 2-0 shutout of visiting West Valley Friday afternoon in Hayward.

The victory improved Chabot's record to 4-0-1 overall.

Sergio Hernandez scored Chabot's first goal on an assist from Jeff Mulsow 23 minutes into the contest.

Mulsow added the final Chabot goal late in the second half off an assist from Brad Boldrini, a former Amador Valley High star.

Boldrini feed a pass over several West Valley players to Mulsow who fired in a 15-yard blast from the left.

The Gladiators hope to regain their GGC title they lost last season. Chabot won the statr crown in 1974 and 1975.

A's roll past KC, 7-1

OAKLAND — Scattering five hits and no-hitting division-leading Kansas City through the final four innings Joe Coleman and the Oakland A's recorded a 7-1 victory in front of 3909 at the Oakland Coliseum last night.

Jim Colburn saw promises of a 20-game season washed away as the A's got 10 hits and rally-producing shots from Mike Jorgensen's solo homer, his fift h, in the fourth, Jeff Newman's two-run homer, his h, fourt in the eighth. Jim Tyrone, Rodney Scott, Manny Sanguillen, andRob Picciolo all played important roles as the A's also prolonged an inevitable 100th victory for K.C.

Raiders beat all the Steelers

"Talk, talk, talk. Now maybe these people will shut up for a while."

A still fired-up George Atkinson said it after the Oakland Raiders had knocked off the Pittsburgh Steelers, 16-7, in a pressure-packed showdown at Three Tivers Stadium Sunday.

"You bet, it's a satisfying win. All you hear is how dirty me and Jack Tatum are. And I'm tired of reading and hearing how we beat them the last time without Rocky (Bleier) and Franco (Harris)."

The Raider cornerback said, "We came here for one reason only and that's to play football. And the scoreboard shows that's exactly what we did."

Atkinson, "the bad guy" in the Lynn Swann incident on the field and in courtrooms, would have been much happier if the final Steeler tally had shown a big Zero on the board. "We had a shot at a shutout and that would have been great. It's partly my fault because Monte (Johnson) had Bennie Cunningham on that touchdown pass, but in trying to help, I knocked Monte away from the receiver and he got loose.

Even though they lost the shutout that marked the first score by the opposition in four games, the Raiders left their mark on 50,398 persons who for the most part were swallowing hard in the Eastern stadium.

Coach John Madden felt the key to victory was Oakland depth. "We lost Cliff Branch early on an ankle injury and Mike Siani and Morris Bradshaw were there to fill the gap. Phil Villapiano injured his knee and we called on Floyd Rice. When John Vella got hurt (knee), there was Henry Lawrence to take his place."

Tax-Deferred Retirement Plans:
Individual Retirement Account.
The IRA Plan is for individuals not covered by any other retirement or profit-sharing plan. If you qualify, you can deposit 15% of your annual salary (up to $1,500) in an interest-earning Franklin account.
Tax is deferred on the amount deducted for deposit and also on the interest your deposits earn.
Keogh Plan (HR-10)
The Keogh Plan permits self-employed persons to deposit 15% of their taxable income (up to $7,500) into their own Franklin retirement accounts. Tax is deferred on the amount deducted and on the interest earned by the fund until such time the individuals retire—at which point, their tax rates are usually lower. Tax on up to $2,500 of such a deduction may be deferred on your State of California return.

Franklin Pays Off With Safety.
Never A Missed Interest Payment: In over 102 years of continuous operation, there has never been a missed interest payment at Franklin Savings. Franklin Savings always pays off . . . always has, through every kind of national economic storm.
Insurance On Your Account: Savings accounts at Franklin Savings are insured up to $40,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation (FSLIC), an agency of the U.S. Government.

A change of Fortune hurts a wise Man no more than a Change of the Moon.

*1977 manufacturer's suggested retail price including dealer preparation, required California emission equipment and $211 worth of equipment newly standard in '78. Tax, license and destination charges not included.

Base 1978 manufacturer's suggested retail price including dealer preparation and required California emission equipment. Tax, license and destination charges not included.

For 1978... Chevy Chevette announces a decrease in price and an increase in value.

A lot more standard

Our nifty 2-door Chevette Hatchback is a lot niftier. Because we now include in California eighteen standard features at no extra charge.

Features that most people want in a car. Like a quality-built Delco AM radio, a 1.6 Litre engine, white stripe tires and wheel trim rings. Even swing-out rear windows.

All things considered, the new '78 2-door Chevette Hatchback is considerably more car.

And a very considerable value.

New standard features on the '78 2-door Chevette Hatchback

- Delco AM radio
- 1.6 Litre engine
- Swing-out rear windows
- Reclining front bucket seats†
- White stripe tires
- Sport steering wheel
- Console
- Wheel trim rings
- Bumper rub strips
- Protective body side moldings
- Cigarette lighter
- Color-keyed instrument panel
- Glove compartment lock
- Deluxe grille... and more... 18 new features in all.

† Some early production Chevettes in dealer inventory won't have reclining seats. The suggested base price will be reduced accordingly.

2-door Chevette Hatchback

$411 value

Last year on Chevette we added $200 worth of equipment at no extra charge in the California Buyer's Bonus.

For 1978 we're adding an additional $211 worth of standard equipment at no extra charge.

And here's the really good news. Based on a comparison of manufacturer's suggested retail prices, we still kept the price of the 1978 Chevette 2-door Hatchback $195 below what last year's model would have cost with the same equipment.

Amazing. More Chevette for less money.

And a total value of $411 worth of standard equipment at no extra charge.

There's a brand-new Chevette, too. A 4-door Hatchback with two more doors, a roomy rear seat and all the new standard features except for the swing-out rear windows.

In fact, it has more rear seat leg room than the 1977 Toyota Corolla 4-door, the 1977 Datsun B-210 4-door—even the 1977 Honda Civic Wagon.

For 1978, Chevette's a lot of car for your money.

Stop that woman!

Surrealistically speaking, the scissors are not a comment on the European oil paintings offered by Aric and Suzette Glanville of The Golden Brush, Pleasanton's newest art gallery. The Glanvilles, framing Mayor Bob Philcox and chamber of commerce director Gracedaryl Dickinson, opened their emporium in the Mission Plaza shopping center at 1987 G Santa Rita Rd. this month. They are offering Kasimir etchings as well as portraits from photographs of your favorite animals. Business hours are Tuesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; phone 462 - 4872. But they'd better wrest those scissors from acting Pleasanton Maid Dawn Perry.

Teens invited to Disneyland trek

PLEASANTON — Teens from throughout the Valley are being invited to the city's annual Thanksgiving weekend at Disneyland.

Tickets for the Nov. 25, 26 and 27 extravaganza are $55 and include travel by Greyhound Bus, entrance and 15-ride ticket book to Disneyland, entrance and 10-ride ticket book to Knotts Berry Farm, and two nights and three days at the Howard Johnson Motel.

The trip is sponsored by the city and the Westwind Youth Center.

Permission slips and information flyers are available at recreation departments and libraries.

The trip is open to teens 13 to 18-years-old from Pleasanton, Dublin and Livermore.

A $10 deposit is required with registration, which eds Oct. 30.

Final payment is due on or before Nov. 11.

The bus will leave from the Westwind Youth Center, 4455 Black Ave., at 7 a.m., Friday, and return there Sunday night at roughly 7 p.m.

Friday night will be spent at Knotts Berry Farm, while all day Saturday is slated for Disneyland.

Call 846 - 3202, ext. 215, or 846 - 2240 for further information.

It's off to old Mexico

DUBLIN — Winners of round trip airfares to Mexico at the Dublin Chamber of Commerce Trade Club Night were Sharon Driver and Howard Hill.

Driver is a director on the chamber board. Hill owns a Shell station in Dublin. He was one of the Dublin merchants who sponsored Trade Club night which was held Sept. 22 at Shannon Center in Dublin.

The participating merchant winner in the chamber's Island Fling business promotion was also drawn Trade Club Night. The winner was Ray Larson. His prize was round trips for two to the Hawaiian islands.

The name of the winning customer participating in Island Fling will be drawn tomorrow at noon in the chamber office. The customer will also win round trips for two to Hawaii.

Tempt your tummy

DUBLIN — — The "Flying Chef," John B. Bird, is teaching a Gourmet Cooking class Thursday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30 in Dublin High School's Home Economics Room.

This class is being sponsored by the Valley Community Services District (VCSD) Recreation Department.

Six lessons cost $20. Signups are being taken at Shannon Community Center Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Classes have begun.

The class includes first and main-course preparation, entire menu planning, demonstrations and sampling.

For further information call VCSD Recreation Dept. at 828-7711.

LEGAL NOTICE

ANNOUNCEMENT OF INTENT TO PERFORM FLOOD ELEVATION STUDY

The Federal Insurance Administration of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development announced today that under authority of the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (P.L. 90-448), as amended, and the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (P.L. 93-234), it will fund a detailed study of the flood hazard areas in the City of Pleasanton.

The study will be performed for the Federal Insurance Administration by Development and Resources Corporation, 455 Capitol Mall, Suite 675, Sacramento, California 95814.

The purpose of this study is to examine and evaluate the flood hazard areas in the community which are developed or which are likely to be developed and to determine flood elevations for those areas. Flood elevations will be used by the community to carry out the flood plain management objectives of the National Flood Insurance Program. They will also be used as the basis for determining the appropriate flood insurance premium rates applicable for new buildings and their contents, as well as determining the rates to be used for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and contents.

This announcement is intended to notify all interested persons of the commencement of this study so that they may have an opportunity to bring any relevant facts and technical data concerning local flood hazards to the attention of the Federal Insurance Administration for consideration in the course of this study. Such information should be furnished to the Chief Executive Officer of the community, for forwarding to FIA.

County Fairgrounds blossoms next month

The Fairgrounds in Pleasanton will be host to a student relations conference planned by Valley Christian Center Oct. 17-21, just one of the many diverse events scheduled for the month of October.

Picnics once again top the slate, but two major March of Dimes events are also expected to bring hundreds of adults and children to the Fairgrounds.

The first is sponsored by the Pleasanton JayCees on Friday, Oct. 8, and is the March of Dimes - Big Wheels charity event.

Spooks and goblins will be roaming the grounds late in the month with the annual "Haunted House" Saturday, Oct. 22, through Monday, Oct. 31. Proceeds go to the March of Dimes.

There'll also be two Octoberfest events, one sponsored by the Foresters of Castro Valley on Saturday, Oct. 22, and the other by Aahmes Shriners on Sunday, Oct. 23.

Foothill High School's annual band review, sponsored by the Foothill Band Boosters, will be held Saturday, Oct. 29.

The following picnics are set: Aahmes Peace Officers Club and Hall-Roepke, Oct. 1; Greek Orthodox Church, Oct. 2; Educational Testing Service, Oct. 8; Order of Aheph, Oct. 16; Sears, Roebuck and Co., Oct. 16; Chabot College Credit Union, Oct. 23.

There'll be trailers of all shapes and sizes at the Fairgrounds throughout the month. The Santa Cruz Maverickes will be here this Saturday and Sunday followed by Hook Um Up Trailer Club Oct. 22.

From goblins, to dances, to the SCCA

Autocrosses slated are those by Autocross Competition Team Oct. 2, Golden Gate BMW Oct. 6, North Bay Corvettes Oct. 15, Sports Car Club of America Oct. 22-23.

Dances are being planned by the Ballistic Soccer Club on Saturday, Oct. 1, Cattlemen's Association the same day, Antenna Hoppers Oct. 8.

The Starving Artists Group has an art painting sale planned Sunday, Oct. 9, the Livermore Valley Bridge Unit a tournament Oct. 14-16, and the North American Alaskan Malamute Association a dog carting event Saturday, Oct. 22. The latter features races with Alaskan Malamutes pulling carts.

The March of Dimes' Haunted House will be held in the poultry building and is open to the public.

The Valley Christian Center students relations conference is expected to draw between 1,000 and 1,200 persons to the Exhibition Hall.

Shooting accident ends hunting trip

SAN RAMON — A Danville man is in good condition at a Walnut Creek hospital after shooting himself in the leg Friday afternoon.

William Bruce, 24, of 918 Podva Lane, told deputies he was seated in his car when he accidentally shot himself with a .38-caliber pistol.

Bruce said he was preparing to leave on a hunting trip with David Parks, 20, of San Ramon.

Major low tar brands tested!

National taste test*

proves Real is best tasting low tar

The Natural Cigarette.

All major brands enhance their flavor artificially. Only Real gives you all natural taste because Real uses only the finest tobacco blend to which nothing artificial has been added. Nothing.

You get great satisfying taste. And all of it is natural. All of it.

Now enjoy the cigarette that says it tastes best—and proves it. Low tar Real, the natural cigarette. Only 9 mg. tar.

The National Test.

Regular king-size filter smokers—both full-flavor and low tar smokers—tested Real Filter and major non-menthol low tar brands. Each person smoked one low tar brand on an unidentified basis and rated it. Real Filter was rated higher overall than every low tar brand tested. It was rated higher on taste, satisfaction, natural taste and rich flavor. Yet Real has only 9 mg. tar.

The natural cigarette. Nothing artificial added.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

9 mg. "tar", 0.8 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC method
